

Following the tragic terrorist attacks in Mumbai in November 2008, our impending cricket supporters' tours were thrown into chaos. The location for both Test matches was changed and all our meticulous arrangements were now redundant. We were very concerned about losing deposits and the tour turning into a shambles. We need not have worried. Mohit, Amit and the team at Travel Pals pulled out all the stops and re-organized everything in a matter of days with as much, if not more, attention to detail they had given the original itinerary. The tour itself was brilliant thanks to the ground work put in by Travel Pals. Thanks to Amit, Mohit and the team whole team at Travel Pals – we could not have done it without you.

The event was a grand success and it was largely because of the excellent organisation you and your team had done for this conference. I am pleased to tell you that almost all of our guests from abroad went satisfied with the organisation and a very professional handling of their stay and travel.
